

WOT NO LOO?

Chad is a cartoon legend* – and a very poor country in Africa

We think it's out-of-order that schools in Chad don't have toilets. Will you take on our Wot no loo challenge? Hold a sponsored 12-hour event and raise £240 to twin a school toilet block in Chad.

Night-time options:

Do without your duvet: arrange a sponsored sleepover or sleep-out... Hunker down in a hall or someone's back garden for the night, and feel what it's like to go without.

OR

Go without sleep: Lay on some fun activities to keep each other awake all night:

- Build a life-sized latrine out of junk or cardboard
- Organise silly games eg toilet-roll slam dunk, dodge ball roll, blindfold pin-the-flush-on-the-loo. (Lots more ideas on the website.)
- Make cakes or crafts, ideally with a toilet twist eg brownies, Swiss (loo) roll etc. Then sell them later to raise extra funds?

Day-time option:

As above, minus the sleeping bag and the stars.

So go on, give cartoon Chad the boot: give children in Chad a toilet.

* Ask your parents – or anyone from the 1970s. Or the 1940s.

Health and safety small print: even though you're raising money for loos, please don't try going without a toilet. Bad idea.
