Every two minutes, a child under the age of five dies because of dirty water or poor sanitation.

In poor communities, many teenage girls drop out of school because of lack of proper toilets.

Women and girls are vulnerable to being bitten by snakes, or being attacked, when they go to toilet in the bush.

Every £1 spent on sanitation has a return of £5.50 due to increased productivity and lower healthcare costs.

Sita’s children were constantly ill with diarrhoea and the family made regular visits to the medical centre. Sometimes, they would borrow from neighbours to pay for vital medicines. But it was rare that others had money to spare. So the debts at the medical centre mounted up.

‘We felt hopeless, trapped,’ Sita says. ‘We didn’t want to live any more.’

Sita and her husband learnt how to build a latrine behind their home, and now the family are healthy and debt free. They can afford to send their children to school – and have started to build a new home.

‘Now, thank God, my family is much healthier and there’s no more debt.’

Twin your toilet today.
